

A Feast Fit for Kings: An Earthquake Relief Dinner for the Southeast Asia Victims

Dear Saklan Families,

You are cordially invited to “A Feast Fit for Kings”: An Earthquake Relief Dinner for the Southeast Asian Victims. The dinner will be held on Thursday November 10th, 2005 from 6:30 to 8:30 pm. This is the same evening as international day, and we hope it will be a welcome relief from cooking on this busy day.

The dinner is hosted by the seventh grade students as part of the History of Islam curriculum and each of the seventh grade students will be giving a brief presentation during the meal. The funds raised during this event will be donated to Save the Children, please see (http://www.savethechildren.org/emergencies/south\_asian\_earthquake/) for more information. The project is integrally related to the 7th grade Islam curriculum as our students will be supporting one of the most meaningful acts of Islamic pillars; Zakat (the giving of alms/charity).

The meal will take place in the Math, French, and Library classrooms while the Humanities classroom will serve as the Buffet line. In addition to presentations by our 7th grade students, 6th and 8th grade students will be volunteering their time serving as waiters, waitresses, and bussers to help the event go smoothly. The food for the meal will be provided by donations from local restaurants.

We are inviting all adults from the Saklan community to the dinner and requesting a donation of $25 per person. If you are interested in attending, or supporting this event please let us know by filling out the form below and returning it by Tuesday November 8th.

In gratitude,

Manija Kam & Chris LaBonte
